

ACCELERATE SCHEDULING

ACADIS SCHEDULING

Unlike Microsoft® Outlook®, standard appointment books or campus calendaring software, Acadis Scheduling was specifically designed to automate the scheduling of high-liability, multi-subject, blended-training classes.

Acadis Scheduling uses a rules-based approach to automatically assign appropriate instructors, facilities and training equipment to your classes. It puts everyone on the same page: Registrars know when classes are starting, facility managers know when classrooms and training sites need to be ready, and instructors know precisely where they need to be.

And as conditions change (and they always do), you can rely on Acadis Scheduling to help you stay agile and flexible. You can adjust scheduling in real time, all while continually optimizing use of your training resources.

You set your unique business rules. Then the scheduling engine kicks in to make capacity planning and conflict resolution a snap. So you can stay on top of a constantly changing training landscape — and in command of all the variables that can determine your training success.

Whether your trainees are in the classroom, on the range or online, you can finally manage class schedules, instructors, facilities and resources with ease.

KEY BENEFITS

Cut Scheduling Time by up to 90%: Set your business rules and automatically schedule multiple classes, instructors, and resources based on those parameters — and save countless hours of legwork in the process

Optimize Resources: Ensure the right instructors and right equipment are assigned to the right class (and facilities) at the right time

Avoid Conflicts: Readily identify scheduling conflicts and automatically receive suggestions for which resources can help resolve those conflicts

Fill in the Gaps: Identify instructor and resource shortfalls for scheduled classes, and use them to aid short- and long-term planning

"At the time we installed the Acadis scheduling module, we were moving to a large training facility with many more classrooms and a highly complex curriculum design. By implementing Acadis' easy-to-use curriculum model, we were able to avoid hiring two additional full time schedulers."
